GEN. WILSON'S CAVALRY EXPEDITION.—A full account of Gen. Wilson's recent cavalry expedition in Alabama and Georgia is given by a correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial. The following narrative of incidents is interesting:

The route, divided into its important stages, was from Chickasaw to Elytown, from thence to Selma, thence to Montgomery, thence to Columbus, Georgia, and thence to Macon. It crossed great rivers upon pontoons, and numerous smaller streams grown formidable with the abundant rains of the season. In fact, in addition to pontoon troubles, a good part of the route had to be corduroyed. It was with great difficulty that the cavalry and pack animals passed, while the obstructions encountered by the wagon train may be inferred from the pontoniers diary below. The wagons mired, and were lifted out by the men who were more than once three nights running without sleep. At one place the wagons had to be let down by ropes on one side, and lifted up on the other, while, at the Alabama river, the immense quantity of drift-wood floating, made the construction of a pontoon bridge seven hundred feet long, a work of great labor and hazard. Twice the bridge was broken, the second time swinging round with the loss of fifty feet, and dragged back by ropes with great difficulty.

The average distance traveled by the whole command was five hundred miles, accomplished in thirty days, an average of over sixteen miles a day, including stoppages. In fact, portions of the command, at times, accomplished forced marches of sixty miles a day, and frequently the march began at dawn and was long continued after dark. The command foraged, and after passing the Black Warrior River, subsisted entirely upon the country.

The security of Selma and Montgomery had been that no great force could cross the mountains of Northern Alabama.

Georgia and Alabama were the last granary left to the South. Besides, the last strongholds were captured by Wilson's raid. Next to the Tredegar Works of Richmond, the principal source of supply to the rebels of the munitions of war, were the vast iron works, and rifle and pistol factories, besides the extensive cotton factories, employed in the manufacture of rebel clothing, found and destroyed, in Alabama.

A rebel ram, nearly ready for sea, was also destroyed, with arsenals, armories, accouterments, shops, paper mills, etc. In addition, the railroad from Selma to Blue Mountains, connecting with the iron works; also, the Montgomery and Georgia Railroad, and an immense amount of railroad stock, were torn up and burned. On the Montgomery road thirty-six culverts and a large amount of track suffered for treason. The effect of these terrible fires in the rear of the Confederacy cannot be over-estimated. They effectually consumed the propagative qualities of the last dragon's tooth, and sundered every nerve of the last ganglion of the rebellion. The effect of Wilson's raid upon the Southern heart is significantly apparent in the submissive tone of all this region. There is not a hand that has the nerve, nor a voice the spirit, left, to be lifted again in hostility to its Government.

Whether or not it was the inevitable result due to the "invincible" arms of Sherman, undoubtedly Wilson's raid greatly intensified the catastrophe. In dismay, Johnston appealed to Sherman during the conference, and Sherman approving the irrepressible young cavalryman whose "blood was up," hastily interfered to stay him.

NEW YORK REBEL JOURNALISM.—The N. Y. Times, of June 17th, remarks:

In the course of the trial of the alleged assassins, yesterday, some very curious, but to us not unexpected, testimony came out in reference to the organ of the late "confederacy" in the city, recently edited by one John Mitchel. An assistant manager of the Montreal branch of the Ohio Bank testifies to the existence of drafts of $25,000 drawn on the City Bank of New York, payable to Benjamin Wood or order, and that in at least one instance, Ben Wood [illegible] [illegible]. There is no attempt to conceal the fact that this money really came from Jacob Thompson, the leading rebel agent in Canada, the projector of the St. Albans and Lake Erie raids, the chief patron of Blackburn, who undertook to introduce yellow-fever and small pox into Northern cities, and the spokesman of the South in the Niagara Falls Conference with Mr. Horace Greely.

The charge so often made that Mr. Wood's paper has been supported with Southern money, is now to be established beyond cavil, and we can no longer wonder at the devotion it has shown for its chosen masters. This much, at least, the News can claim: it is no sneak, no bastard, no emasculated advocate; it has been plainly outspoken in its opposition to the Government; it has done its utmost, in an open manner, to thwart and defeat the will of the North; it has made no secret of its sympathy with treason; it has gloried in Union defeats with a gusto that might excite the envy of the London Herald; it has mourned over Confederate reverses with a sincerity the most conspicuous and manifest; it has done all that natural energy and the stimulus of a foreign pouch could suggest, to annoy and defeat loyalty, and when the game was quite played, when its petticoat hero was fairly in Fortress Monroe, when its own malicious ingenuity could not invent an excuse for further persistence in evil, it invited to its editorial chair the outcast Mitchel, the common scandal of a naturally generous race, and spent the last installment of its Canadian funds in buying gall for his prostituted pen. Such, and so supported, has been the Daily News.

BATTLE MONUMENTS.—An eastern paper has the annexed description of the Battle Monuments recently erected on the field of Bull Run. A later report mentions that they were destroyed by some rebels of that vicinity. The defacers of these monuments ought to be punished with extreme severity:

The two Bull Run monuments were recently dedicated. Speeches were made by Judge Olin and Gens. Wilcox, Heintzelman and Farnsworth. The monuments are plain square pyramids of rough, solid masonry, and are surmounted at the apex by a block of stone and a 200-pounder Parrott shell, painted black, with a pedestal of masonry, sodded on the sides, and each corner of the pedestal surmounted similarly to the apex. One of the monuments is situated on the high ncared knoll where transpired the thickest of the first Bull Run Battle, and the other where raged fiercest the second battle of Bull Run, making them only a mile and a half apart. The first is inscribed on one side, "In memory of the patriots who fell at Bull Run, July 21, 1861," and on the obverse side, "Erected June 10th, 1865." The other is inscribed, "In memory of the patriots who fell in the battle of Groveton, August 27, 1862," with the same obverse inscription as the other.

DEATH BY SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION.—A death by spontaneous combustion has not unfrequently occurred—the victims in most cases being fat and aged women of intemperate habits. A case is now going the rounds, of a man who had been a habitual drunker for years, who was found standing in an out building completely enveloped in a silver-colored flame, like the wick of a candle in its blaze, and being shaken by the shoulder the fire was immediately extinguished, and though nearly all the flesh sloughed from the bones, as the veins remained, and the viscera were uninjured, he lingered thirteen days without being conscious of much bodily pain, though he declared he was suffering the torments of hell. Two cases of this kind have occurred in the same town in this vicinity within thirty years, both of them women given to constant indulgence in liquor. One of them was found still alive, enveloped in flames, which proceeded from her mouth and nostrils, and the other was burned to a mass of greasy ashes, while the walls of the room and the furniture were covered with a thick coat of lamp black.—Newburyport Herald.

Sir Samuel Cunard, founder and chief proprietor of the Cunard line of steamers, died in London on April 28th, aged seventy eight. He was born at Halifax, and was the son of Abraham Cunard, a Philadelphia Tory, who took refuge in Nova Scotia.

A STINGING REBUKE.—The Evansville Journal informed that some days ago Lazarus W. Powell [illegible] returned rebel soldier in Henderson asking him what induced him to go off into the rebel army. "You did [illegible] you," was the prompt and withering reply. "By a harangue in the Court-house over yonder, [illegible] sent [illegible] hundreds of them into the rebel army to fight against the old flag."

The Daily Oregonian.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 29 1865

Condition of Oregon

The evils which have resulted from over speculation in other parts of the Pacific coast, have been felt to some extent in Oregon but not in so great a degree as in our neighboring States. Our population for the most part is somewhat less migratory than that of California has been for a great number of years. We are not quite so prone to engage in doubtful and hazardous projects as some of our neighbors are, yet the truth is there is far too little stability among our people to enable them to prosper in many of their undertakings. What we want is steady intelligent labor, aided by a sufficiency of capital to give it suitable employment, in order both to increase the supply of our products and to manufacture for ourselves as much as possible of what we are now compelled to import. At present, we manufacture almost nothing in Oregon, and as a consequence our capital is sent elsewhere to pay for labor that we ought to employ here. This method of procedure prevents Oregon from advancing so rapidly in wealth as she otherwise would, but notwithstanding all drawbacks, the progress of the State is steady and not discouraging. We think our State is gradually increasing in active population and are very sure that every succeeding year witnesses a considerable increase in her wealth. True, the growth of Oregon is slow but the fact that we are gaining, even though but little, at a time when the adjoining States are acknowledgedly in a condition of retrogression encourages us to hope that ere long, we shall be better. When all the difficulties incident to a new settlement in a remote situation shall have been surmounted, and when the term of pupilage which it seems necessary that every community shall undergo, shall have been passed through our State will spring into importance just as others have done. It took time for them to grow and Oregon must be content to pass through the same process.

The present harvest is not so fruitful as had been expected, but still we shall have a large surplus of grain. The season has not been very favorable for spring crops. The harvest, we understand is proportionately lighter towards the head of this valley and in Southern Oregon than in a few of the counties adjoining ours. From the fact that California has not produced a full crop this season, we may expect bread stuffs to bring a fair price in our markets throughout the year or at least after the supply in California shall have been partly exhausted.

During the present year there have been considerable accessions to our agricultural population in several of the counties beyond the Cascade mountains. Umatilla, Union and Baker counties particularly the two former, have become valuable farming districts. Grand Ronde valley is almost entirely filled with people who are engaged mostly in agricultural pursuits.

The valleys which lie between the Cascade and Coast ranges of mountains will always be the most valuable parts of Oregon, and while other portions of the State may derive a transitory wealth from their rich mines of gold, these valleys will ultimately be the [illegible] of our permanent prosperity.

THE SUFFRAGE QUESTION.—One of the most difficult of all the perplexing questions which arise in relation to the matter of reconstruction is to [illegible] who may and who may not vote. We think it may safely be said that in this matter the Government and the loyal Legislatures of the reconstructed States will not [illegible] so much with a desire of paying deference to the wishes of those who have forfeited all their civil rights, as with a purpose of taking such a course as good policy and the general interests of the country may dictate. It is hardly to be doubted, however, that the great mass of the people, including all but the more conspicuous [illegible] of the [illegible] rebellion will eventually be permitted to vote. At present they may be held under such disabilities as the peace and safety of the country seem to demand but no one hazards anything in supposing that all [illegible] will shortly be removed save in exceptional [illegible]. Some think it will be impossible to prevent the disloyalists from voting, and that no attempt of the kind ought to be made. We do not doubt but that they can be disfranchised, the only question that arises is whether so sweeping an exclusion will be a measure which good policy can [illegible].

A good many prominent Union men think that the right of voting ought not to be restricted by too stringent oaths. It is proposed to guard the Government against those who might be hostile to it, by requiring all who are elected to office to be [illegible] promising Union men. This plan could be put in operation both North and South. Allow, say those who favor this idea, no one to hold any office whatever, who will not first take an oath that he has never done or said anything prejudicial to the United States. In this way it is claimed that the [illegible] of the Government can be kept at all times in the hands of true men. It is obvious however, that this plan is fraught with almost the same difficulties that be set an attempt to prevent disloyalists from voting by prescribing and exacting test oaths and oaths of fealty. In either case there is room for evasion and if either or both be tried, they will be found not to answer the ends expected and desired. To many men their duties to State and National authority—if we may believe themselves—seem to clash together, and from what we know of the past conduct of such persons we need not think it unlikely that they would take an oath that they had never attempted to do the Government harm when in point of fact they had been among its most hostile enemies. The doctrine of fealty to a "sovereign State" has often led to just such practices as this. Little reliance can be placed on those whose political education has been received in the "State rights" school.

To bring about permanent peace and security it may be necessary to withold the ballot from large numbers who, by their traitorous conduct have forfeited the right to use it, but we prefer to entertain the hope that in the South, a factious opposition to the Government will not characterize those who have been beaten in the war, and that they will not compel the authorities to treat them with rigor and harshness. If they now become quiet peaceable and loyal citizens, their past acts will be forgiven and themselves reinstated in their former relations with the Government. Unless they do this they will have to be permanently disfranchised. Nothing must be permitted to prevent a full restoration of lawful authority in all parts of the country.

INDICTED.—It seems as if the troubles of the late rebellion will never end. They are now being prosecuted at home for their misdemeanors during the rebellion. The Richmond Republic of June 19th gives an account of a whole batch of them being indicted for horse stealing.

Judge Lee of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia; his son Capt. Lee, a Quartermaster in the Confederate army; Major Cooper, a member of the Virginia Convention of 1861, Captain Quinn of the Virginia Senate; Judge Camden, Judge of the Circuit Court of Harrison before the war have been indicted by the Grand Jury of Harrison county for horse stealing. This was done under the charge of Judge Harrison present Judge of this court, who instructed the Grand Jury that any person in the United States who aided or sympathized with the Confederate cause was indictable for any act done by and in the name of the Confederate authorities. The persons named were indicted for the theft of horses carried off from Harrison county by General Imboden and William P. Jones during some of their raids into North western Virginia.

[illegible] ASSASSINATION TRIAL.—The New York Herald of [illegible] has the following remarks on the argument of [illegible] Reverdy Johnson against the [illegible] of the Assassination Conspiracy [illegible]. We [illegible] purpose it seems to be to throw impediments in the way of the administration of justice, attempt to shield [illegible] and assassins from the immediate consequences of their crime by [illegible] that the tribunal before which they were tried [illegible] the final proceedings [illegible] military [illegible].

We have [illegible] argument of Senator Reverdy Johnson of Maryland on [illegible] of the counsel for Mrs. Surratt against the constitutionality of the Military Commission [illegible] the [illegible] conspirators. Of the [illegible] very little [illegible] contenting himself with the remark [illegible] who [illegible] well [illegible] witnesses [illegible] of the conspiracy than Mrs. Surratt herself. Of this woman Johnson speaks in the [illegible] having been her counsel and is warm in his praise of her pure christian character. He makes no effort however [illegible] this character with the evidence against her but he asks the Court [illegible] the Government witnesses [illegible] Mrs. Surratt is such a good woman. We hardly think that such a plea will suffice to secure her acquittal.

Johnson's argument against the constitutionality of the [illegible] is to be presented [illegible]. He proposed to deny the jurisdiction [illegible] Court [illegible] he should have presented his argument [illegible] the trial [illegible] witnesses were examined for the defense. To common sense minds Johnson appears to have admitted the constitutionality of the Court by appearing in it during the trial cross-examining the Government witnesses and producing testimony in favor of his client. It will be remembered that when one of the Commissioners objected to his presence in Court [illegible] heard as counsel. If the Court had no jurisdiction he might then have retired, that he had no [illegible] to be there as the Commission [illegible] thus raising the point. [illegible] unconstitutionality [illegible] to press his argument with greater force than it can possibly have at present when the evidence is all in and the prisoners with one or two exceptions are already practically convicted. By this delay Johnson has given his argument the appearance of a last effort to rescue his client from what he knows to be a certain verdict of guilty.

Divested of all verbiage and of the countless authorities and illustrations by which it is supported, Johnson's argument is simply this: That the present Military Commission is unconstitutional because it conflicts with the fifth amendment of the Constitution which provides that no person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval, or in the militia when in active service, in time of war or public danger. Senator Johnson argued precisely the same point against military tribunals before the Senate during a debate upon the night of the 3d March last, a few hours before Lincoln's re-inauguration. Several of the radical Senators then supported him; but the majority were against him. If, then the Military Commission shall decide that it is constitutionally convened and has jurisdiction over the prisoners at the bar, it will be sustained by no less a body than the Senate of the United States. The President of course sustains it since it was assembled by his order. When we consider that the victim of the assassination was the Commander in Chief of our army and navy, that the assassination occurred in a city then under martial law and encompassed by forts and sentinels, that the assassins are proven to be the agents of a conspiracy of which Jeff. Davis was the head, that these agents were the representatives and instruments of an armed rebellion in whose service and for whose interest they acted and that blank rebel commissions had actually been provided for some of them, we see that the Judge Advocate General will have no difficulty in showing that their case is fully covered by the constitutional amendment which Reverdy Johnson quotes. The people who are after all the supreme arbiters are already satisfied, not only of the guilt of most of the accused but of the constitutionality of a tribunal which has proven more efficacious than any civil court could possibly be in tracing all the ramifications of a gigantic conspiracy, and in sweeping aside all those quibbles by which such pettifoggers as Sanders [illegible] always endeavor to defeat the ends of justice.

UTAH AND THE UNION.—The "Saints" of Salt Lake appear to be very considerably annoyed by the Vedette newspaper which exposes their malpractices without stint. It belabors them and their system most unmercifully. It does not, like Horace, attempt to bring confusion and ridicule upon them by pleasant raillery, like Cato it denounces their unseemly conduct in words of unmistakable meaning. Here are some remarks it makes about Utah and its proposed admission into the Union:

"Utah is anxiously seeking admission to the Union. But there is a wide barrier. The damnable stigma of 'Polygamy' rests upon her shoulders; she is branded with the 'Mountain Meadow Massacre' and its horrible details; the cowardly assassination of innocent beings by her band of 'Danites'; her unlawful system of tithing; her proclamation of open and defiant treason as preached in the Tabernacle; her denunciation of Abraham Lincoln and her prayers for continued war in the United States. Will Utah with Brigham Young at its head be admitted into the United States with these crimes unavenged? It is a matter of serious inquiry with Brigham today what is the United States going to do with Utah. We venture an answer: So soon as Utah becomes thoroughly penitent, so soon as she fully atones for her years of violation of the laws of the United States and denounces the damnable and infernal creeds now preached by Brigham Young and his horde of titled defamers of the sacred Gospel of God, and her leaders pledge unwavering and faithful allegiance to the United States, we predict that Utah may have some hope of becoming a Sister State."

SEXTON AND GENERAL SHERMAN.—Ever since his conversation with the [illegible] General Johnston the Copperheads have been profusely lavishing praises upon General Sherman. They have [illegible] their very utmost to [illegible] thinking that with him as their leader they would be sure of triumph. But the General is [illegible] to become a [illegible] captain for those who only a little while ago would [illegible] the country whipped by the rebels and [illegible] he persisted in his determination to fight treason down. Sherman is [illegible] be caught in the toils of the same political Machiavels who lured McClellan to his ruin. The following paragraph which relates both to Senator and General Sherman disposes of the assertion that the latter is going to be the [illegible] candidate for Governor of Ohio.

The night before the Union Convention in Columbus Ohio the band of the [illegible] United States (colored) Infantry serenaded Senator Sherman and General Schenck at the Neil House. Senator Sherman in his reply, referred to the fact that but a little while ago every man of the land was a slave and [illegible] them [illegible] freedom [illegible] of the people that they should be protected. In reply to a question the Senator said the story that his brother, General Sherman would consent to be the Democratic candidate for Governor was a silly falsehood. The General was not going into politics.

MAN MISSING.—A man named Phillips who had for some time been employed in a store at Oregon City, being unwell left there a few days ago and went up the river [illegible] to stop a short time with a friend. Last Wednesday he was left alone at the house while his friend was employed in some necessary business at [illegible]. On the return of the latter Phillips was missing and has not since been heard of. His hat [illegible] and his apparel were found in the orchard near by the river, and it is feared that in a moment of insanity he had [illegible] himself. Up to yesterday all search for him had proved fruitless.

An expedition will start from Leavenworth for the plains about the middle of August to collect [illegible] and herd for a while and then drive [illegible] to the States for market, not less than [illegible] head [illegible] Buffalo [illegible] its horns and hides [illegible].

LOUISIANA.—Governor Hahn has published a card in which he declares that the Legislature of Louisiana adopted the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery, the report to the contrary being untrue.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, July [illegible].—It has already been published that the overland mail [illegible] Portland [illegible] the [illegible] of Washington city a new contract [illegible] according to the contract was to [illegible] running the mail on the first of July [illegible] California Stage Company who have carried the mail for several years past [illegible] to continue through the end of this month. We are now informed [illegible] positively refused [illegible]. The new contractor has not the stock on hand [illegible] to do the work [illegible] Marysville [illegible] to Oregon [illegible] Reeside sent an agent [illegible] to run the mail in a buggy [illegible] that project upon discovering that the mails for Oregon average about three tons per day which has to be transported [illegible] and he is now awaiting instructions from his principal who is in Washington. Mr. Gaskill special agent of the Postoffice Department [illegible] authority from the Postmaster General [illegible] will be [illegible] to the California Stage Company to continue carrying the mails until the Government [illegible] state of things. The Stage Company carried the mail last year for $240,000 but they claim that they lost money [illegible] year [illegible] $408,000. Reeside's contract was for $22[illegible],000.

General Rosecrans and Gen. [illegible] and staff were serenaded at the Occidental [illegible] last night by the 9th Infantry band and Senator Stewart of Nevada received a similar compliment at the Cosmopolitan hotel from Wells' concert band.

Several of our public spirited citizens have it in contemplation to extend the compliment [illegible] to-morrow evening. The Turners will be out in full [illegible].

Beyond [illegible] the movement in the general [illegible] market is rather light to-day, the auction sale being the leading feature in the [illegible] market. There was a fair business in wheat and [illegible] for export to China and prices were [illegible] well supported.

Butter—sales of 200 firkins [illegible] 14 [illegible] cents [illegible] 600 bags of Rice [illegible] Auction sales of 450,000 lbs. No. 1 [illegible] at $8 12½@8 37 and $8 90 per 100 lbs. 800 mats No. 2 China at $8@$8 50. Teas—52 half chests [illegible] Flour—steady, a fair demand for home use and export to China, and market remains steady. We quote superfine at $[illegible] and extra at $[illegible], $[illegible] 00 per bbl. The latter is the jobbing price. Wheat—little more inquiry for milling. The Golden Gate Mill has resumed operations. Sales in the aggregate of [illegible] sacks at fair to prime at $1 80 @$1 87½ chiefly at $1 85 per 100 lbs. Barley—sales of 770 sacks at 95 cents and 1,000 at the same price deliverable at Sacramento at $1 12½ per 100 lbs. Oats—sales 76[illegible] sacks of new at $1 70@$1 75, 100 do at $1 [illegible] and 200 do old at $1 85 per 100 lbs.

The Cœur d'Alene Excitement. — We have seen and conversed with a gentleman who was among the [illegible] on Mullan's road, for Cœur d'Alene [illegible] The excitement has abated and the region in which the people of this part of the country had the greatest [illegible] hence but a week or two since [illegible] sequence in the end. Such is [illegible] who was one of the first and most prominent parties in the creation of the excitement, had nearly [illegible] ing by an infuriated mob, who met him near the Cœur d'Alene Mission. His life was spared however, through the interposition of a priest at the Mission, and he left the [illegible] alone, after signing a paper contradicting all his [illegible] statements. The Walla Walla Statesman says [illegible] was afterwards seen on the Spokane, where he [illegible] by an acquaintance Mr. Pope, who had started [illegible] Cœur d'Alene wholly on Wilson's advice and here [illegible] to him that he was sorry the affair had turned out [illegible] bad; but that he knew there was a basin there and that there must be gold in it. He tried to persuade Pope to stay with him until the excitement died away and [illegible] go back together and prospect. It appears [illegible] Wilson [illegible] with him that Wilson had been told years [illegible] by an Indian or half breed that there was [illegible] country in such a basin as he describes, and they [illegible] for his seemingly unaccountable conduct [illegible] to the matter upon the principle that he has [illegible] over the story until he has become a monomaniac upon the subject, and told the story so often that he has [illegible] confirmed in the belief of the existence of the basin and the mines, like Capt. Pierce, who has spent years in looking through the mountains of the upper [illegible] for the "glittering stone," described [illegible] All the prospectors assert that they did not find the "color" in the country into which Wilson led [illegible] and that the only indications of gold they saw were a few specimens of quartz gravel.

From East of the Mountains. — Circus Coming. — The [illegible] agent of a large circus company Mr. Rawes arrived from the upper country by the steamer Oneonta on [illegible] afternoon. The company will follow him and will give one or two performances in this city upon their arrival here. This is the first troupe of performers that have ever hailed Portland from east of the Cascade Mountains. Their course has laid through what people generally [illegible] to be a desert — from Nevada, via Humboldt to Owyhee, Boise, Walla Walla, and so on down the Columbia river. Three years ago it was an unusual sight to the [illegible] there being none other than [illegible] there to see anything — to witness even a caravan of emigrants [illegible] their way along dusty trails at certain seasons of the year. But now a caravan of circus animals passes [illegible] the same country. "The poor Indian" [illegible] head, or if he does it [illegible] in another sense; and the [illegible] of enterprising [illegible] are met at flourishing towns, which have sprung into existence like magic, to welcome the fun and [illegible] the exhibition [illegible] The Company [illegible] plains [illegible] and we have no doubt will meet with full [illegible] at Portland.

[illegible] — "Brockie" Jack, the notorious [illegible] famous in every part of the [illegible] west of the Rocky Mountains, appears to be [illegible] ubiquitous, not only not existing at all but [illegible] everywhere. It was stated not long since that [illegible] drowned — or quite surely supposed to have been [illegible] when making his escape across Snake river from [illegible] having charge of him from this city. Next he was at Kootenai, and now the Walla Walla Statesman says he is lurking about the Kootenai road, for no good purpose, [illegible] being recently seen in company with a man [illegible] at Walla Walla as Texas and another [illegible] large [illegible] haired, pock marked fellow whose countenance is [illegible] Would it not be a wise policy for the [illegible] of the land to send [illegible] after this [illegible] manner to the pursuit of the pirate in the [illegible] Give him a chase.

[illegible] — This new camp on Granite Creek [illegible] a short distance by good trail from Umatilla, say [illegible] miles, is paying the miners well. There has [illegible] a scarcity of hands there but work is progressing [illegible] This is the camp selected by our friend Eph Day [illegible] to make his [illegible] and we understand that he [illegible] there are in a fair way to realize handsome [illegible] for their labor and investments. A number of good [illegible] all paying well and with plenty of ground, are [illegible] in the vicinity of Independence. There [illegible] large scope of country there to be prospected as it is [illegible] to be very well known.

[illegible] County. — G. Mitchell was fined $50 [illegible] Court yesterday for having assaulted his [illegible] The fine was paid and an appeal taken to the [illegible] Court. The clerk was also arrested on complaint [illegible] but was discharged. Charles Lawrence was [illegible] up for two days in default of payment of a fine for [illegible] His antagonist — whose name we withhold as [illegible] never before appeared upon the stage in this [illegible] Drama, and is somewhat diffident in receiving the [illegible] he has won in acquitting himself of the part as [illegible] paid a fine of $5 and cost.

Scamper. — Mr. Henry Welch has rented the [illegible] Track, two and a half miles east of this city, and will give purses for trotting and running, notice of which will be published in a few days. The meeting will be held during the last week in September, so that the animals [illegible] can be taken to the State Fair. Several horses are now in training at the track, some of them for next [illegible] among the number Fly by Night and Live-Oak-George, to go mile heats for $1000 a side.

From White Bluffs. — Mr. A. B. Rood arrived from White Bluffs and Colville last evening, by the steamer [illegible] after an absence of ten days from this city. Mr. Rood brings encouraging reports from the regions of the Upper Columbia river. The wagons of the Hudson's Bay Company had arrived at White Bluffs for freights [illegible] the company, to be delivered at the new post Fort Sheppard, and at Colville.

[illegible] — An old brick, very tight, was [illegible] from [illegible] last evening by a Policeman [illegible] at work in the sun all day. The humane [illegible] held that to punish a man for drink [illegible] under such [illegible] would be unjustifiable, so the man was advised to sit down on the curb, rest awhile and go [illegible] At last accounts the old chap was taking the Policeman's [illegible]

Willamette Theater. — The exhibition of Scenes at the [illegible] Theatre last evening was a decided success. The views being from actual photographs, and as near as art can make them to nature, when reflected [illegible] in size nearly equal to the largest [illegible] view makes them very handsome. The exhibition will be repeated this evening.

Interesting Topics. — Mr. Pearne will lecture in the M. E. Church on Sunday evening at [illegible] on the work of the Christian Commission [illegible] army [illegible] it, and also [illegible] reconstruction of the South, and on the work [illegible] in the South. — Advocate.

A Quick Trip. — Four teams [illegible] arrived in this city on [illegible] of last week. Having left St. Joseph [illegible] may be considered a quick trip [illegible] are now [illegible]

A Launch. — We learn that [illegible] steamboat, building above the Falls opposite Canemah will be launched to-day.

A Historic Cabin. — Mr. Lincoln's log cabin on exhibition at the Chicago Fair, which he helped to build with his own hands in the days of his youth and poverty is the most interesting of all the objects in the Fair. It has been brought [illegible] from its original location and erected inside a broad inclosure at the corner of Randolph [illegible] and Wabash avenue. It is a quadrangular building about sixteen by sixteen as nearly as the measurement can be guessed at, and is a veritable log cabin and aboriginal backwoodsman's dwelling.

Correspondence

[illegible] Dear Sir: [illegible] that it is your intention soon to return to the Eastern States and [illegible] information [illegible] last [illegible] address to the citizens [illegible] of Portland [illegible]

[illegible]

Portland, July [illegible]

[illegible]

Gentlemen: I am in receipt of yours of the 24th inst. requesting me to address the citizens of Portland on public affairs before leaving Oregon [illegible] that [illegible] will [illegible] pleasure [illegible]

THOMAS H. [illegible]

All [illegible] will be glad [illegible] opportunity to hear Mr. [illegible] We learn that the address will be delivered at the Presbyterian Church [illegible]

Homicide. — A white man named Wells got into an altercation with a negro on Thursday at the farm about halfway up the mountain [illegible] was [illegible] in which the negro made an assault upon him with a drawing knife and cut [illegible] arm off below the elbow [illegible] nearly [illegible] that it [illegible] hung by the [illegible] skin. [illegible] facts of the case as we get them are that Wells left the farm [illegible] agreed to split [illegible] part of [illegible] and Wells went to the place to argue [illegible] as he had often done before when harsh words ensued, and the assault was made as above. Dr. Day was sent for and went out and amputated the arm. Some hours had elapsed from the time the [illegible] and when the Dr. arrived Wells had nearly bled [illegible] The negro, whose name [illegible] is [illegible] made his escape from the place [illegible] is reported this morning that he was [illegible] by a party of men from the [illegible] caught last night somewhere on the Walla Walla river and hung this morning. [illegible] plans last summer and has a family [illegible] grown up children. — W. W. Statesman.

The Umatilla Advertiser says that the negro Green was hung by the mob the day before Wells died. At the time he was caught and executed he was on the way to give himself up to the authorities. The affray between him and Wells was without witnesses and it cannot be known what provocation the latter may have given. The [illegible] characterizes the hanging as an inexcusable murder. Certainly there is no need in any part of Oregon, of that nuisance known as a [illegible] committee. The laws afford ample means of punishment for crime.

Murder of Ex-Sheriff Pinkham. — Ex-Sheriff Pinkham of Idaho City was recently killed at the Warm Springs near that town by the desperado Ford Patterson. Our correspondent at Boise City gives the following account of the affair:

Ferd. Patterson met Pinkham the former Sheriff of Boise [illegible] at the Warm Spring two miles below Idaho City. Patterson was coming in from South Boise and was at enmity with Pinkham. Patterson called on him to defend himself and shot Pinkham through the heart. He was pursued and brought back while attempting to run away. The stage has just brought the news, which I give in haste as there is no time to spare.

Great Stage Robbery. — We are shown a letter by J. W. Wood & Co in reference to the stage robbery between Virginia City (Montana) and Salt Lake. The coach left Virginia City, July 10, and while passing through Port Neuf Canyon was attacked by four men and robbed of seventy-five thousand dollars. Seven passengers were in the stage of whom all were killed except three. The driver escaped on a horse while unhooking the teams as ordered. This is the heaviest robbery on record on the overland route. — Idaho World.

Health and Condition of Jeff. Davis. — A dispatch from Fortress Monroe, of 23d June says:

As incorrect statements, not emanating from this point, have appeared in several journals regarding the health and condition of Jeff. Davis, we would inform the public that his health at the present time is much better than when he landed here. This morning he was seen by our informant smoking and apparently in a calm state of mind. He is not in irons, and his quarters are very comfortable.

Sozodont is now attracting very considerable attention, and well it may. The article represented by this musical name, is one of the best preparations for the teeth and gums that has ever been offered to the public.

We have been familiar with its results for some years past, and have never known a case in which its use was not pleasing and highly satisfactory. It polishes the teeth, hardens the gums, and gives a wholesome tone to the mouth or breath. — Providence Daily Press.

WISTAR'S BALSAM

OF

HAS BEEN USED FOR NEARLY

HALF A CENTURY,

WITH THE MOST ASTONISHING SUCCESS IN CURING

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, and every affection of the

THROAT, LUNGS, AND CHEST;

INCLUDING EVEN

CONSUMPTION.

There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slightly developed, of the above symptoms — a neglect of which might lead to the last named, — and most to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known; so great, is the good it has performed, and so great the popularity it has acquired.

In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry, there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value ten fold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure disease, exists in no other medicine yet discovered.

The unequalled [illegible] that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of

has induced many physicians of high standing to [illegible] it in their practice, some of whom advise us of the [illegible] under their own signatures. We have space only for the names of a few of these: —

ABRAHAM SKILLMAN, M. D., Bound Brook, N. J.

H. D. MARTIN, M. D., Mansfield, Pa.

The proprietors have letters from all classes of our fellow citizens, from the halls of Congress to the humblest cot [illegible] and even from beyond the seas; for the fame and virtue of Wistar's Balsam have extended to the uttermost [illegible] of the earth, without any attempt on our part to introduce it beyond the limits of our own country.

[illegible] At Boston [illegible] Charles Sumner, speaking of the death of Lincoln, says:

His place in history may be seen from the great cause with which his name is associated. The proclamation of emancipation, the military suppression of the rebellion—his republican example and his [illegible] speeches are in themselves a [illegible]. By the association of [illegible] he will pass into the same historical galaxy with Cæsar, William of Orange and Henry IV of France, all of whom were assassinated; and his star will not pale by the side of theirs. Cæsar was [illegible] to him in everything, unless [illegible] and in the coincidence that each was fifty-six years of age at the time of his death. But how unlike in everything else! Cæsar was of a brilliant lineage, which he traced on one side to the immortal gods and on the other to the one of the regent chiefs of Rome; of completest education, of amplest means, of successful experience, of acknowledged genius as a soldier, orator and writer, being in himself the most finished man of antiquity; but he was the destroyer of his country, whose personal ambition took the place of patriotism, and whose name has since become the synonym of imperial power. William of Orange was of princely origin, and in early life was a page in the palace of Charles V. In the long contest of Holland with Spain he became the liberator of his country, which he conducted wisely, surely and greatly—anticipating the example of Washington. The name of "Silent," which he bore, may suggest the reticence of another. Henry IV, memorable for mirth and [illegible] and pregnant wit, represented the idea of [illegible] and his career has been illustrated by the popular epic of his country, La Henriade of Voltaire. These are illustrious names, but there is nothing in them which can obscure the simple life of our President, whose example will be an epoch in the history of humanity, and a rebuke to every usurper—to be commemorated forever by history and by song.

There is another character who, like him, was taken away at the age of fifty-six, with whom the President may be more properly compared—St Louis of France; and yet here the resemblance is only in certain kindred features and the common consecration of their lives. The French monarch, though at the head of a military power, was a lover of peace and cultivated justice toward the neighbors. Under his influence a barbarous institution was overthrown and France was lifted in the career of civilization. Though in an age of privilege and wearing a crown, he was moved by the practice of equality. History recalls with undisguised delight the simple justice which he administered to his people, as he sat under an oak in the park of Vincennes. Our President struck, too, at a barbarism, and lifted his country. He, too, practiced equality. It was that plain room, where he was always so accessible as to make his example difficult for future Presidents. But there were stated times when he was open to all who came with their petitions, and they flocked across the continent. The transactions of that simple court of last resort would show how much was done to temper the law, to assuage sorrow, and to care for the widow and orphan; but its only record is in Heaven.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

WEEKLY REVIEW

Portland, July 28th, 1865.

Under this head we have but little to report. There has been no arrivals from foreign ports during the week and our whole trade is from the regular coasters. A large amount of machinery in quartz mills, etc., are among the arrivals for the period under review.

The cargo of the American bark Cambridge from Honolulu, which arrived last week, turned out in excellent condition, and the market is now well stocked with sugars, but prices remain unchanged. She will sail during the coming week for the Sandwich Islands, taking a full cargo of kegs, lumber and produce for Aldrich, Walker & Co.

The damages to the barkentine Jane A. Falkinburg are yet undergoing repairs. She will not be enabled to clear for at least two weeks, however. Three vessels are [illegible] from San Francisco before the close of the coming week.

The depredations of the pirate Shenandoah in the Pacific are given in another part of this paper. There is little doubt but that she will be captured.

The reduction of freights above this city on the Columbia river and overland to Idaho, has a beneficial effect, so far quite plainly to be seen. The agents of steamship lines by the reductions that have been made, although it does not effect them any farther than to [illegible] the local rate, are now enabled to contract for the conveyance of freight through at greatly reduced rates. By this reduction, and from evidences which appear from reliable sources, there is little opportunity left for the competing routes to derive much benefit from their strife to obtain trade and travel, by diverting it from the usual route—the one best adapted, and in every way worthy of it, the Columbia river route. Freights must be lessened, however, between this city and San Francisco. In the winter season the rates above this point must, [illegible], again advance, then a cheapened rate will be of advantage to our merchants and business interests generally between this place and San Francisco. We learn that a few gentlemen of this city, experienced in the matter of steam navigation, and who have been identified with the country from the days when a canoe was the only craft and Indians the crew, [illegible] building steamships to be owned and controled by our mercantile community, so far as to enable them to derive cheaper rates of transportation at least, and that one vessel will be built the present [illegible] if possible. We hope to see the organization consummated.

By a statement recently published at San Francisco, showing the value of exports from that port to various countries in which their commercial interests are greatest, we are informed that for six months in 1865 there was a decrease of $144,567 06 in the exports to Portland and Victoria, over the corresponding period of 1864, and it is mainly attributed to high tariffs of freight. To New York, Boston, the Hawaiian Islands, Mexico, Japan, Peru, Chile and other countries, for the same period, there was an increase of $470 969 28 in the export valuation of goods from the same market in 1865, over that of 1864. Why it should fall off here, and gain everywhere else, is a poser—when it is known that absolutely there is no less demand for the staple articles of merchandise for the country, but absolutely a [illegible], by a more dense population, and further add the large amounts of freight which is taken into [illegible] as machinery coming forward to develop our [illegible].

Stocks, money and exchange are without any greater interest than has characterized the market for two months past. The telegraph has not been in operation over the East for the week past, and we are in the dark as it were, regarding financial [illegible]. The establishment of a National Bank at Reese river is eliciting some considerable comment from the press of San Francisco, on money topics and the advantages and disadvantages of this system. The Flag takes decided ground in favor of the National Banking system. One or more will be established in San Francisco; others in Nevada and Oregon by parties who are "men of means and ability." The capital to be embarked in the enterprise, it is said will be $5,000,000—amply sufficient to commence with.

New discoveries of gold placer mines, said to be immensely rich, have been made during the period under review in the John Day region. From all the mining camps in the upper country we get the most flattering accounts. We hear of no sales of stocks in the mining share market, but the surer signs of our prosperity are attested in the daily receipts of bullion and the exports by every steamer.

From a table showing the business of the San Francisco Branch Mint, for the year ending June 30th, 1865, we learn that more bullion has been received and coined for the past month than in any month in the year, there being 1[illegible] [illegible] ounces deposited; $2 722 000 coined [illegible] gold and $21,000 coined of silver—making a total coinage for the month of $2 743 000. The total coinage for the year has been $18 [illegible] 840.

Wholesale and Jobbing Prices.

Portland, July 28th, 1865.

There is, generally speaking, a better tone to the market than for some weeks past. Flour has dropped from $12 to $10 per barrel. Sales of several tons for the week are noted at reduced prices. Buyers are offering for new wheat for milling $1 20@1 25 per bushel. We hear of one purchase delivered at the mill here at the [illegible]. There is none of consequence coming into market, hence there can be no particular prices noted.

Oats and other grains, also feed, are firm at old prices.

The bacon market has been much more active for a week, and large sales are noted from wagons at prices varying from 21 to 22½ cents per pound, although there are still firm at previous quotations.

Sugars and staple groceries generally are firm. The markets are well supplied.

The Wool Market.

Portland, June 28, 1865.

The bulk of surplus wool we may consider disposed of. The factories seem to have procured their supplies, and there is now it is estimated, no more than 75 000 lbs in the State yet to be disposed of.

There is a large quantity in this city, enough perhaps to make an aggregate of 150 000 lbs, which will be forwarded to New York by Messrs. Knapp, Burrell & Co soon. It is to be properly graded here before shipping, and for that purpose Mr. Perkins, late of Salem, has arrived, and will begin operations next week.

Sales are limited and prices paid have been quite equal for the season. An average of 30 cents is possibly near the current amount paid for the whole, and prices are still maintained at these figures. There is no probability of an advance.

We have no changes to note in prices of Woolen and Cotton goods. Additions will soon be made to the list of domestic manufactures from the Ellendale Works of Brownsville and the new Oregon City Factory, not alone in heavy woolen goods, but in both cloths and delaine.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY, LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorder or decay of the Procreative Functions. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step, his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom of an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active, and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor.— The mischief reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER,
INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS AND
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING,
OR PAINFUL
URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS
OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING,

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.

OPERATE THE SAID LILLIE LOCK.

Any parties desirous of seeing the above mentioned lock, its insecurity and easy mode of opening the same, can call at 218 Battery Street, San Francisco.

Bloomington, March 25, 1864.

Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND, Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.

So Called "Fire Proof Safes"

On the 18th of February last a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and [illegible] in the safe. After the fire the so-called "safe" was [illegible] from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or a single [illegible]. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we would [illegible] & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc.—their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the cloth [illegible] business and had but little in the cellar. There was [illegible] of Lillie's safe [illegible] subjected to the same fire [illegible] better than ours.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
(Signed) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe, among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High street, Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Mary's, Lamb Place, Pall Lock, Harrow road; St. Luke's, Old street, University, Gower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary, Charing Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road; Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DOCTOR GIBBON has also visited Doctors Acton of London, Parker of Birmingham, England, and Ricord of Paris, who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DOCTOR GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment which cannot be surpassed.

DOCTOR GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with new facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes; pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use. For Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Preventive against Diseases and Pregnancy, sent by mail. Price $2. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney St., near Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 252.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper-carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it [illegible], but will find their former occupations [illegible] in the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry, as it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Doctor Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Doctor Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability [illegible].
